

WELCOME TO THE SPECIAL-INTEREST GALLERY

★ When the same basic political mail piece keeps showing up in your mailbox, eventually it starts to look like performance art. ★

What's the artist trying to say?

Hmm... bought & paid for?

A most expensive piece!

Yes and no substance.

Composition in Red, White & PAC
(Mailbox Flood No. 31)

Mixed Media on Carpet
2026

Collection of Special Interests &
Dark Money

Estimated value:
Thousands in postage.

On loan from Lobbyists Everywhere

 Audio Tour Stop 16

A study in repetition, influence, and
bulk-rate postage.

STATE HOUSE

KARMIN GRIDER

★ REPUBLICAN ★

Karmin Grider:
The candidate working for your vote—NOT buying it.

KARMIN GRIDER HASN'T BEEN TRYING TO PURCHASE THIS ELECTION FROM AFAR.

★★★
She's been quietly working hard for months — going where it matters: your doorstep, listening to you in person. She's made hundreds of visits.

While Collin Duel has been flooding your mailbox with special-interest-financed mail, Karmin Grider is asking for your vote in a very different way.

"When the politicians accept lobbyist money, and they fill your mailbox with polished, consultant-written bullet points that say little of substance, they aren't providing a civic service, they are buying a bigger government. And that's why the government keeps getting bigger, no matter which party is in charge."

A LETTER FROM FORMER HOUSE DISTRICT 31 STATE REPRESENTATIVE JASON MURPHEY

While Collin Duel has been flooding your mailbox with special-interest-financed mail, Karmin Grider has been quietly working — going door to door and speaking directly with the people of House District 31. That difference has defined this race.

In 2022, Duel narrowly defeated Grider after he and his dark-money allies spent tens of thousands of dollars while Grider knocked hundreds of doors. Four years later, it is clear why those interests invested so heavily in him.

As your state representative from 2006 to 2018, I saw firsthand how special-interest money works. Today, as publisher of OklahomaStateCapital.com, I audit legislative votes through The Oklahoma State Capital Audit. In my 2025 audit of the Oklahoma House, 93 worst votes, Duel scored correctly on only 10.

Read the audit for yourself at OklahomaStateCapital.com/s/pa2025. Time and again, Duel failed on the principles of small government, transparency, and efficiency. So when special-interest mailers tell you he is a conservative, they are grifting.

That is why it is so important to elect a representative who will not take their money. In House District 31, that person is Karmin Grider.

Karmin is principled, determined, and hard-working. Despite vicious dark-money attacks, she is still showing up at the doorstep to earn your vote the right way. On June 16, if you value honest, truly conservative representation, I encourage you to vote for Karmin Grider.

Jason Murphey

Former State Representative, House District 31
Publisher, OklahomaStateCapital.com
(405) 315-5064

APPROVED AND PAID: GRIDER 2026.

Karmin Grider '26
ARTISTIC RENDERING INSPIRED BY KARMIN'S DOOR-TO-DOOR CAMPAIGN.

SCAN TO LEARN MORE

Learn much more about Collin Duel's values-betraying votes, carefully documented by Karmin to show the difference between the candidates.

Can't scan? Visit:

votekarmingrider.com/current-legislator

STATE HOUSE
KARMIN GRIDER

★ HOUSE DISTRICT 31 ★

★★★★★
VOTE JUNE 16
★★★★★